ON THE STRUCTURE OF DEUTERONS UNDER THEIR COLLISION

G. F. Filippov, V. N. Romanov

The influence of the force fields of colliding deuterons on deuteron wave functions is studied within the framework of the algebraic version of the resonating group method. The problem of the determination of the continuum of K-matrix elements at fixed kinetic energy of the deuterons in the center-of-mass system is formulated and solved.